

PHOTO COURTESY KEN SHERMAN

This home built by Main Street Building Group in White Sulphur Springs won the award for Best Single Family Home - Class VI at the recent Home Builders Association of West Virginia's annual Best in Home competition. The house is located at The Greenbrier Sporting Club.

Main Street Building Group wins award

By Tina Alvey REGISTER-HERALD REPORTER

A White Sulphur Springs licensed building contractor and construction management company won the Best Single Family Home - Class VI award for a house located at The Greenbrier Sporting Club.

This marks the fifth time that owner Robert E. Vass III and his team at Main Street Building Group have won a top award in the Home Builders Association of West Virginia's Best in West Virginia competition. The association recognizes the achievements of West Virginia builders each year by selecting what the committee believes is the best new single-family home in each of six categories.

The Greenbrier Sporting Club home that came away with the Class VI award for MSBG contains 5,123 square feet and includes four bedrooms and four-and-a-half bathrooms. The home boasts hardwood flooring, quartz countertops, custom cabinetry, Anderson E Series windows and Sub

Zero and Wolf appliances, as well as custom interior trim, millwork and stone/tile details throughout. A separate carriage house contains a two-car garage, living space, kitchen and full bathroom.

"We appreciate the recognition given to us by the Home Builders Association and would like to thank the homeowner for selecting Main Street Building Group and architect Ed Roach," Vass said. "We commend all of our amazing staff (including) project supervisors Buck Goodman and Laura Dott and lead carpenter Joe Rider, as well as our many trade partners, suppliers and talented craftspeople for a job well done."

MSBG specializes in architecturally designed custom homes and is an approved builder at The Greenbrier Sporting Club.

For additional information about the company, contact Rob Vass at rev@msbuildinggroup.com or visit www.msbuildinggroup.com.

— Email: talvey@register-herald.com